

Accelerating research.

Increase your research impact with Open Access, making it more visible and accessible to a wider audience.

Open Access is free, instant, online access to double-blind, peer-reviewed institutional scholarship with unrestricted rights to use it in new and innovative ways. Open Access had revolutionized how research is disseminated and shared.

Interested in starting a journal? We can help.

Join the growing movement that supports open and free access to scholarship. For more information, visit:

<http://wallacecenter.rit.edu/scholarly-publishing-studio/>

Open Access provides unrestricted access to scholarship.

Start your journal today.

We have a robust back end mechanism for day-to-day management activities as well as the online “home” to house files and the journal website. We can also provide guidance and technical support. Feel free to contact us for a consultation to determine how we can help you publish.

Your role:

- Set the scope of the journal
- Decide on the field to be covered and the number of issues to be published each year
- Recruit the editorial board
- Set policies regarding content, peer review and copyediting

We provide:

- One-on-one consultation
- Setup of Open Access journal software and launch of your journal website, including meta data entry, peer review forms and registration of the review board
- Register your journal for ISSN and/or ISBN
- Write and issue a Call for Papers in PapersInvited, WikiCFP and other appropriate outlets
- Manage paper submission through the publication process
- Coordinate the copyediting of articles
- Design and layout of cover
- Formatting of articles
- Launch of journal
- Initial press release
- Discuss options at the end for your publicity efforts, including the design of marketing materials

To learn more, visit us at:

<http://wallacecenter.rit.edu/scholarly-publishing-studio/>